WE CANNOT SAY TOO MUCH in praise of the men who are working on the high school campaigns in Fort Wayne and Gary.

WHATEVER YOU HAVE HEARD to the contrary, we do not have enough priests to supply all existing needs in the diocese.

WE UNDERSTAND the tendency of youth to celebrate the closing of school, especially when it is crowned with graduation. Responsible pastors and parents will be concerned to keep this unbounded joy within bounds.

Coadjutor Bishop For Lafayette

Washington — (NC) — His Holiness Pope Pius XII has named Msgr. John J. Carberry of Brooklyn, N. Y., to be Titular Bishop of Elis and Coadjutor with right of succession to Bishop John G. Bennett of Lafayette-in-Indiana.

The appointment was announced here (Wednesday) by His Excellency Archbishop Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, Apostolic Delegate to the United States.

BISHOP CARBERRY will serve as Coadjutor to Bishop Bennett, who is the first Bishop of the diocese of Lafayette-in-Indiana. Bishop Bennett was consecrated January 10, 1945, by Archbishop John F. Noll. He has been ill since January 9, 1955, when he was stricken the day before he was to offer a Mass of Thanksgiving marking the Lafayette Diocese's tenth anniversary.

He has been in failing health since the initial attack and has

City Officials Hear

'Gary Is Going To Have Catholic High School'

Gary — "Gary is very definitely going to have a Catholic high school," Bishop Leo A. Pursley told local civic officials at a meeting this week at Holy Trinity parish rectory.

Bishop Pursley told the group that a Building commission will be formed this month and plans laid for construction of the structure to start in the fall.

BISHOP PURSLEY, who is honorary chairman of the Gary Catholic High School campaign's executive committee, was here for the solemn opening of the General Solicitation phase of the drive.

Ceremonies were held last Sunday afternoon at St. Luke church with over 1,000 volunteer workers in attendance.

Bishop Pursley told the group "we are at a critical moment of the campaign. We've got a long way to go."

He said that "work and prayer" will bring success and that the "united efforts of every Catholic in Gary" will be needed.

This week the work of calling on approximately 10,000 Gary Catholics regarding campaign pledges was begun. Workers will visit in pairs and cover the entire 21 parishes taking part in the drive.

Father Richard Kennedy Is Novena Speaker

South Bend—Father Richard Kennedy, C.S.C., of the Notre Dame Mission Band, will deliver the series of sermons on the Blessed Virgin during the annual novena at the Our Lady of Fatima shrine opening here at 3 p.m., Sunday, May 20.

Highlight of the novena will be an outdoor evening Mass which will close the services Monday, May 28.

This is the third year the novena has been held here. Father John O'Connell, C.S.C., novena director, estimated that more than 2,000 persons will complete the novena and an additional 2,000 will take part in one or more of the nightly services.

Allen County Catholic High Schools Campaign Pledges Total $2,270,068

Fort Wayne—The second General Report meeting of the Allen County Catholic High Schools campaign this week heard James Keenan, associate general chairman, announce that pledges in the drive to date total $2,270,068.

THE GROUP met under the gavel of Associate General Chairman Tom McKiernan and heard

1-week progress reports by pastors of the 21 parishes taking part in the campaign.

Next meeting of the body will be at 8 p.m. Monday, May 14, at Central Catholic high school.

The campaign essay contest winners were announced and $10 prizes were awarded to individual parish winners by Msgr. Thomas L. Durkin, Fort Wayne dean.

Monsignor Durkin announced the three top winners as Mary Ann Voirol, St. Andrew parish; Barbara Craighead, St. Jude parish, and Lois Jean Kessler, St. Paul parish. Each received $25 dollar savings bonds.

PARISH WINNERS are Rita Ann Settimi, St. Mary's; Lenore Bey, St. Patrick; Mary Jo Still, St. John the Baptist; Carolyn Schuller, St. Aloysius; Yoder, George Ertel, St. Joseph, Monroeville; Joan Evans, Cathedral; Judith Gerardot, St. Louis, Bescancon; Joyce Cote, St. Vincent Villa; Sandy Gill, St. Patrick, Arcola; Deanna Ley, Queen of Angels; Joan Schreiber, St. Joseph; Dianna Wyss, St. Joseph, Hessen Cassel; Ann Marie Miller, Precious Blood; Delores Hiatt, St. John the Baptist, New Haven; James DeVinney, St. Peter; Sandra Grim, Sacred Heart, and Jerome Kever, St. Hyacinth.

Father Fred Westendorf commended the group on the work done to date. He said that the minimum need of $2.5 million was "now in sight."

Campaign headquarters said that the speakers' committee schedule for Sunday, May 13, is: Father William Lester, St. Paul, Fort Wayne; Father Westendorf, St. Vincent de Paul, Fort Wayne and Father Joseph Crowley, St. Louis, Bescancon.

Church Musicians Of Diocese To Attend Workshop

Wawasee — A Liturgical Music summer school and workshop for parish organists and choir directors of the Fort Wayne diocese will be held at Our Lady of the Lake seminary here August 20-24.

SPONSORED by the Fort Wayne Diocesan Church Music commission, the program will be directed by Father Eugene Lindusky, O.S.C., Music department head at the seminary.

Subjects will include choral techniques, liturgical organ playing, and Gregorian Chant theory, practice and conducting.

Father Lindusky said that courses will be slanted to the parish level and emphasis will be placed on problems of church musicians as reported in this diocese.

Bishop Leo A. Pursley, in announcing new officers of the commission last month, said that purpose of the organization is "to

Why I Want A Catholic High School Education

MARY ANN VOIROL

A Catholic high school education is so far superior to any other ordinary high school education, that I feel very fortunate to be able to avail myself of this opportunity.

The religious teachers have been educated in Catholic colleges and are thoroughly trained in whatever particular subject they are instructed to teach. In this way my Catholic faith is kept highest in my mind all through high school; which are four of the most important years of my life. It will have a great effect on my future years in forming me into a fervent Catholic and a good American citizen.

TWO SUNDAY MASSES are now being offered in the new auditorium of St. Anthony parish, South Bend, to facilitate crowds too large for the parish's temporary church. Of red colonial brick and limestone trim, the building harmonizes in design with the parish school opened five years ago. Both buildings were constructed under the pastorate of Father Jerome R. Bonk. Completed within the past month, the new auditorium has provisions for the grade school athletic, music and scouting programs. A large meeting room for parish societies, a kitchen, cloak room, storage rooms and a janitor's work room are included. Off-street parking facilities for 234 cars is provided on a black-top lot on parish property. Recent activities in the new structure include card parties, an athletic banquet and the South Bend Legion of Mary Acies ceremony. Construction was by Peter Schumacher & Sons.

given an opportunity to major in a particular subject in which I am especially interested, whether it be Mathematics, home economics, commercial subjects or any other I wish to follow.

The books from which I study are kept up to the modern times so as to give me every advantage in education, yet, still keeping my religion uppermost in my mind.

The books in the Catholic library are thoroughly checked so as to make the stories interesting to boys and girls of this particular age. Good clean reading is an aid to better the morals of these teenagers.

At all times I am taught to have respect for my teachers who instruct me, to love and respect my parents, and to have respect for my fellow-men.

DURING THESE four years at high school, I will be given a number of opportunities to join Catholic clubs, attend parties, and dances, thereby enabling me to associate with boys and girls of my own age and faith. In this way I will be with a class of friends whose ideals are of the highest standards.

Many people might say, what difference does it make whether my boy or girl attends a Catholic or public high school? From this composition I hope someone will fully understand the great difference, and if just one child from each school is sent to the Catholic High School that might otherwise have been sent to a public high school, then my efforts will have been very worthwhile. No matter what vocation I follow in life my Catholic education will always be to my advantage.

THE ANNUAL MOTHER-DAUGHTER Communion breakfast sponsored by the St. Anne society of Our Lady of Hungary church, South Bend, will be held following the 8:30 a.m. Mass Sunday, May 13. 300 are expected to attend. OPENING February 6, the campaign is now in its third stage. Prior to the General Solicitation phase were appeals for special gifts. Currently being organized is the Commerce and Industry committee.

Funds will be used for construction of the proposed school on a 30-acre site at Broadway and 61st st. here. Included will be facilities for 1,500 students.

The campaign is being conducted by John V. McCarthy & Associates, Detroit Catholic fund raising consultants.

tion of the new Spanish Pontifical College in Rome.

THREE CLASSROOMS and lavatory facilities will be added to St. Mary's school, Huntington, and other school equipment will be modernized at a total cost of $100,000, Father Edward A. Miller, St. Mary's pastor, said this week. New construction will tie-in with the present structure to bring the parish classroom total to 13. St. Mary's grade school enrollment is over 200 and part of the parish facilities are used by Huntington Catholic high school students.

The Legion Of Mary Duties To Mary

One of the greatest privileges of our faith is our being children of Mary. However, with this privilege, as with all privileges, there arise duties which must be fulfilled. The first and foremost of these duties is to be imbued with the spirit of the family and to engage in works which will cause the family to prosper. To gain the spirit of the family there must be a strong devotion to the mother, for the heart of any home is the mother. Since Mary is our Mother we must capture her spirit.

What is this spirit? It is mercy—given in the same manner Mary has been pleased to give it to those souls who need her mercy in their trials. It is fruitfulness—the fruitfulness of Mary that gave life, bread, light, fire and living water to others. It is patience—as she was patient when her Son's labors seemed to bear little fruit. It is meditation—meditation in the same way Mary meditated upon the mysteries of God. It is dependence—as Mary was dependent upon the will of her Creator. It is endurance—the same endurance she had in following the cross. It is co-operation—given as she gave it in her Fiat. It is initiative—the initiative

Mary took to carry out the duties placed upon her in her calling. It is compassion—compassion that Mary had for those who did not know what her Son's sacrifice meant. It is reserve—the reserve she had in trusting in God's wisdom and not in her own. Above all it is humility and obedience in this litany on the spirit of the Blessed Mother which her children must capture in order to be imbued with the spirit of the family. For, through these virtues Mary captured the heart of the Divine Trinity and won for all men the crown of salvation.

What is this work? It is the integration of ourselves with the lives of our people—as Mary integrated herself with the lives of her people and acted as a hidden leaven among them. It is the cross—borne the way Mary bore hers along the road to Calvary. It is action—her action of crushing the head of the serpent. It is building—as Mary builds up the Mystical Body of Christ. It is guardianship—the same guardianship she has of the truths of the Church. It is teaching—teaching as she taught others about her Son through her action. Most of all it is gaining souls for her Son. This is Mary's work. This is the work of every child of the Mother of God if they wish the Christian family to prosper.

The second important duty of the child of Mary is to honor her. Honor her as the Wick, who brought the Light into the world and to carry her in our hearts, in our minds, and in our actions. It means saying her litanies, directing our prayers to her, promoting and joining her confraternities and extending the knowledge of her to those souls who do not know her. All in all it is putting our souls into the hands of Mary so that she may form them into the likeness of her Son.

These are some of the duties to Mary that every Catholic is called upon to perform. All of them mean Catholic Action, the Apostolate, the duty to teach all nations, as our Lord has commanded us and Whose will the most Holy Mother follows.

Cana Conference In Wabash May 20

Wabash — A Cana Conference for married couples of St. Bernard parish here will be conducted from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday, May 20 by Father William J. Lester, Fort Wayne Central Catholic high school director. Included will be conferences, discussions, renewal of marriage vows and Benediction.

Father Leo Hoffmann is pastor. In charge of arrangements are Dr. and Mrs. Vincent Hanneken, Mr. and Mrs. John Driscoll, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ginty and Mr. and Mrs. William Long.

HEADS PILGRIMAGE

Rutland, Vt. —(NC)—Auxiliary Bishop Robert F. Joyce of Burlington, pastor of St. Peter's Church here, will lead a pilgrimage to Ireland and Western Europe in September, it has been announced.

Father Ernest Latko, O.F.M.

dean of studies at Christ the King seminary, West Chicago, Ill., will direct the retreat which opens Friday evening.

Primarily a Vincentian project, the retreat is however open to all men in the area interested in the spiritual exercise. Handicapped persons are also encouraged to attend.

Registration particulars on the retreat will be announced at a later date.

Auburn Parish Opens Fund Drive For $60,000

Auburn — An Expansion Fund campaign with a minimum need of $60,000 was inaugurated this week in Immaculate Conception parish here with an announcement and appeal for volunteer workers made by Father Matthew J. Lange, pastor.

THE EXPANSION program, Father Lange said, will include the construction of a new church and school to be located on the 12.5 acres of land on E. Seventh st. between McClellan and Division streets purchased by the parish in 1946.

The parish drive, directed by John V. McCarthy & Associates of Detroit, consists of a Memorial Gifts phase, begun this week, and a General Gifts phase which will open with solemn ceremonies in the church Sunday, May 20. A Continuation committee will handle the follow-up procedure during the 2-year pledge payment period.

Don. E. Messenger, general chairman, will be assisted by John Rountree, George Kelly, Herbert Schenher, Gerry Souder, Anthony Lemish, Wayne Beuret, Robert Cook, Robert Lumm, Harold Carper and John Foley.

First report of the memorial gifts committee is scheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday, May 10 in the parish hall.

First Communicants To Attend Breakfast

East Chicago — First Communicants of Holy Trinity Hungarian church here will be served breakfast following the 8 a.m. Mass Sunday, May 13.

The Sorority of Our Lady of Fatima will prepare and serve the breakfast, to be held in the parish school. The sorority also will present a gift to each child as a remembrance of the occasion.

EVERY YEAR IN LINE WITH YOU!

Every year in line with you
I must meet that deadline, too.
Quite a chunk they take from me—
A fifth of every dollar, you see.

As a business owned by many
We pay in tax a pretty penny ...
But we too will share with you
In all the work that taxes do ...

Schools and playgrounds, pavements, too,
Policemen, firemen, all they do ...
Our Government, and all it buys,
Relies on Private Enterprise!

This year we shall pay nearly $3 million in taxes on real and personal property owned in 32 Indiana counties and five Michigan counties. Our total tax provision in 1955, including Federal, amounted to over $12¼ million.

We must make these tax payments and still maintain low rates, give the best possible electric service, pay dividends to our shareholders, pay wages and benefits to our employees, and be financially sound to attract new investment in our business in order to expand our facilities to assure a full and continuous supply of power for the future. This is private enterprise at work!

Diocesan Workshop Catholic Action, Public Relations Linked

MRS. PATRICK COUGHLIN

What do you understand by race relations? Is there a Christian basis for racial integration, does this motivate your tolerance?

These were some of the questions posed to the 150 delegates to the Provincial convention who attended the Public Relations workshop sponsored by the Fort Wayne Diocesan Council of Catholic Women at Evansville.

Following a 3-minute skit entitled "You Are Public Relations" in which the participants touched on segregation, offensive literature and Sunday Shopping, the audience broke up into buzz groups of 10 each to discuss points of interest and questions posed by Workshop Director Mrs. Dewey Shapley of Gary.

Each group verbally wrestled to a surprising level of agreement on most subjects discussed. In the area of race relations all agreed that "inasmuch as all are made in the image of God we must regard race relations in the light of personalities rather than a race group." With the conclusion that we are "one human family and have one common destiny."

Asked if the pledge of the Legion of Decency was an infringement on personal freedom and if they considered themselves consistent in their pledge... The pledge does not infringe on personal freedom since as the moderator, Father Matthew Kish, Gary, emphasized "personal freedom includes only the privilege to do what is basically right." Most felt that they were living up to the pledge. Further discussion indicated a need for integrating into civic groups in order to swing public opinion on the subject of NODL.

Heated debate in regard to violation of the Third Commandment by Sunday Shopping ended the program. Disagreeing agreeably many justified Sabbath shopping in emergencies and long working hours in sharp contrast to an equal number who insisted that careful planning and even a bit of 'doing without' was the answer.

However all were of one mind that the impact of our actions by 'business as usual' on Sundays was POOR PUBLIC RELATIONS whether the offender be the shopper or the shop-keeper.

Father Birkley Stresses Need For Communion At Gary CCW Meet

Father James I. Birkley, C.P.P.S., director of the St. Joseph college Calumet center, told members of the Gary Deanery Council of Catholic Women that the soul needs nourishment just as the body needs food and the mind needs ideas and information.

Conducting a Day of Recollection for the council, Father Birkley said that there is "saint and sinner in all of us." "To attain sanctity," he said, "it is necessary to forget self and worldly ways and to do the will of God."

The council choir, directed by Mrs. E. K. Dahlstrom, presented music for the service, accompanied by Mrs. M. J. Fabian as organist. Father Matthew Kish, moderator, led prayers.

Luncheon was served to the more than 100 in attendance by women of St. Luke parish.

Michigan City High School Journalists Take Top Honors

Michigan City — National recognition showered on the journalism class of St. Mary's high school this week as Extension magazine, Quill and Scroll, and the Medill School of Journalism at Northwestern university recognized the talents and efforts of St. Mary's student journalists.

Taking the limelight were Sue Leahy and Jerry Orlowski, seniors, who were responsible for winning $700 of a total of $1,000 offered by Extension in its annual Teen Talent contest.

MISS LEAHY, who took the grand prize in competing with students from over 400 U.S. Catholic high schools, will receive $500 toward her college education, a week of sight-seeing as guest of Extension in Chicago this summer, and will be teen guest editor of the October Extension.

Orlowski, whose picture story of the Michigan City fishing industry was linked to fishermen of biblical times, received a $100 check from Miss Eileen O'Hayer, Extension managing editor, in ceremonies at the school Monday.

Msgr. E. H. Vurpillat, Michigan City dean, also received $100 from Miss O'Hayer for St. Mary's school.

Both students received the Extension service pin. Miss Leahy's award will be presented in Chicago this summer.

Announcement was made that Sue Clark was named by the Medill School of Journalism at Northwestern for a $500 scholarship grant. St. Mary's officials said, however, that Miss Clark prefers to study under Catholic auspices and will decline the award.

QUILL AND SCROLL, international honorary society for high school journalists, also was represented in the proceedings, awarding achievement pins and membership to several members of the St. Mary's journalism group.

Miss Genevieve Wisniewski, Extension assistant managing editor, urged the youthful journalists to pursue their careers diligently.

She said that two attributes required of a successful Catholic journalist are "Apostolic Conscience" and "ability and media."

Emphasizing the importance of faith in any endeavor, she told the assembly that "being an apostle needs only your consent."

Monsignor Vurpillat congratulated the entire journalism class and pointed out the challenge to the assembled lower grades in the group's achievements.

LOCAL entries won prizes over semi-final winners from Jesuit high school, Tampa, Fla.; San Gabriel high school, San Gabriel, Calif., and St. Joseph high school, Berkeley, Calif.

Sister Elizabeth Ann, C.S.C., is St. Mary's principal and Sister Maria Concepta, C.S.C., heads the school journalism department.

CYA Pilgrims To Confer With Mexican Catholic Action Units

Fort Wayne — In keeping with the theme "A Vacation With a Purpose," plans are now being completed for members of the CYA pilgrimage-tour to Mexico in August to meet with young people in the Catholic Action groups in Mexico.

FATHER JAMES Conroy, of the Our Sunday Visitor staff, who is well acquainted with young people's groups in Mexico City, has written to the priest-leaders of these organizations to arrange special meetings and receptions. Purpose of such meetings is to give opportunity for exchange of ideas in Catholic Action, discussion of common problems and an occasion for social exchange between the two groups.

CCHS Class Of '27 Plans Annual Reunion

Fort Wayne—The Central Catholic high school class of 1927 will mark its 29th anniversary of graduation with the annual banquet in the Old Fort room of the Hotel Indiana at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, May 17. Monsignor D. L. Monahan, moderator, and Father Milford Bell, a member of the class now serving St. Monica church, Mishawaka, will speak.

Class officers are Robert Sosenheimer, president; James Haefling, vice-president; Robert Huhn, treasurer, and Joseph Hoog, secretary. Edward Sorg is permanent secretary and Brother Andrew, C.S.B., Dacca, India, is honorary president.

serve the faculty at lunch, to monitor at assemblies, and to usher at school events.

A special press conference in Mexico City and a meeting with ecclesiastical authorities are also scheduled among the special events prepared for the group.

The 2-week trip will begin August 5 and will return August 18. Membership in the group is open to all unmarried young Catholic adults of 18 years of age and over. Graduates of this year's high school classes may also join the tour.

The shrine of Our Lady of Guadalupe just outside Mexico City will be the highlight visit of the trip. Several visits to the shrine are scheduled and pilgrimage-Mass will be said for the group at the shrine on August 15, feast of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin.

THE TRIP, which is sponsored as a special project of the CYA of the Fort Wayne diocese, is also open to young Catholic adults in other parts of the United States and Canada. Reservations for membership have already been received from persons in other states and inquiries about the trip have come in from almost every state in the Union.

Copies of the itinerary and detailed information about the trip are available from moderators and officers of local CYA units and at the Travel department of Our Sunday Visitor in Huntington.

DAN MEEHAN, JR., CCHS senior, shows some of the trophies won in the national Junior Achievement Top Salesman contest. Sponsored by the Inca division of the Phelps-Dodge Copper Products Co., Meehan copped local honors and then was named winner of the midwest regional event in Chicago. He was one of five finalists to appear last week in New York. At right is Father William Lester, CCHS director.

FASHION DESIGNER Connie DuBois and Drummer Ronnie Volz, both of Central Catholic, display awards to Father Lester. Miss DuBois won a certificate of merit for taking a place in Fashion Design at the 29th annual National High School Art exhibition at Carnegie Institute. Volz won the Ludwig Merit award plus 19 other gold medals and a scholarship to Butler university. Both are seniors.

HONOR STUDENTS at Central Catholic this year are Thomas Kovats (left), valedictorian, and Jeanne Smith, salutatorian. Kovats, whose scholastic average is 96.32, last week was named to share in the $3 million National Merit Scholarship program. The only Hoosier named for the grant, he intends to enter Georgetown university in Washington, D.C. Miss Smith, whose average is 95.82, has won a full-tuition, 4-year scholarship to St. Mary's-of-the-Woods college.

DAVID PREZBINDOWSKI, Central Catholic junior, won a top award in the 1956 Northeastern Indiana Regional Science Fair at Purdue university center in Fort Wayne. His project was entitled "Testing and Description of the Composition and Operation of the Photo-Cell in the Solar Battery." It is an apparatus which turns energy from the sun into electrical energy.

CENTRAL CATHOLIC athletes look over a college program in anticipation of advanced schooling in the fall. Left to right are Terry Faylor, who will enter the University of Detroit; Jim Eifrid, scheduled to study at Colorado A. & M., and Ted Burgard and Mel Zehner, who plan to attend Loras college at Dubuque, Iowa.

An Acknowledgement

On this page appears an array of Fort Wayne Central Catholic high school students who have emerged from CC classrooms to prominence in regional, statewide and national fields. With the spread, OSV intends not only to recognize Central Catholic and its illustrious record, but to acknowledge Catholic high school education in the Fort Wayne diocese and the increasingly important part it is playing in the activity of the Church in northern Indiana. —Ed.

Central Catholic Student Named To Head State Recreation Group

Last month the Indiana State Youth Recreation association met for the third time in conjunction with the Governor's Conference on Recreation at Indianapolis.

At this meeting the nominating committee presented the past-president, Tom Bigley, with a double slate of nominees for officers, advisor, and district representatives from which the following were elected. Leanne Oddou, president, from Fort Wayne; Dewayne Agler, vice-president, from Decatur; Sandy Miller, secretary, from Terre Haute; and Susan Moss, treasurer, from Bloomington.

members in Indianapolis and quarterly meetings of the Board of Directors. Because of the increasingly large number of members there will be two meetings held this year. One of them will be held at Bradford Woods, near Martinsville, in November. The other one will be held next April in Indianapolis as usual. Besides these meetings, a newsletter published by some of our members is sent to the members quarterly. These newsletters contain news from the recreation centers all over the state.

All in all, the State Youth is about the best thing in the world for teen-agers who are interested in recreation as a career or as a hobby.

ton. Miss Ona Kell, a Fort Wayne school teacher, was elected advisor for the group. Three more adult advisors will be appointed by the officers and Miss Kell at a later date. Judy Miller was elected representative for the Fort Wayne district.

The purpose of the State Youth as stated in the Preamble of the Constitution is as follows: "in order that there might be a co-ordination of effort, exchange of ideas, and a clinic for methods and planning for teen-age recreation groups; and that there might be developed worthwhile recreation and fellowship among the teen-agers from youth recreation groups throughout the state, this Constitution is adopted."

Any boy or girl over 13 who participates in his local recreation program, regardless of race, color, or creed, may become a member upon payment of the annual dues of 25c. Any adult closely connected with the local teen-age recreation program may become an associate member by payment of these same dues. At the present time, there are 227 members from all over Indiana in the Indiana State Youth Recreation association.

Wawasee CYO Camp Under Renovation

Fort Wayne — Reservations for CYO Camping sessions at Lake Wawasee are pouring in to CYO headquarters here while reports from the camp site indicate that the remodeling and renovating program will be completed for the first girls' session opening June 17.

A total of $2,000 will be spent on camp facilities prior to the first period, Father Eugene Zimmerman, diocesan CYO director, said.

Major changes include remodeling of the kitchen, to include replacing of inadequate and worn out equipment.

A REVAMPING of the former camp dormitory will see partitioning of the structure to provide six separate rooms, each housing ten campers. A ceiling will be constructed in the building's upper level and an exhaust fan placed in the attic to facilitate cooling.

A rearrangement of the dining room and fresh paint throughout the camping area are included in the plans.

Boys and girls aged 9 to 14 are eligible to attend one to five of the 1-week camping sessions.

Girls will camp June 17-23; June 24-30; July 1-7; July 8-14 and July 15-21.

Boys' sessions are July 22-28; July 29-Aug. 4; Aug. 5-11; Aug. 12-18 and Aug. 19-25.

varied periods within the past year.

A former pastor of St. Joseph church, Garrett, and past dean of the Fort Wayne deanery, Bishop Bennett was ordained by Bishop Herman J. Alerding in Fort Wayne June 27, 1914.

BISHOP-ELECT Carberry was born in Brooklyn, July 31, 1904, the son of James J. and Mary E. (O'Keefe) Carberry, both of whom are deceased. He attended the Cathedral College of the Immaculate Conception, the preparatory seminary for the diocese of Brooklyn, from 1919 to 1924, and the North American College in Rome from 1924 to 1930. He was ordained in Rome on July 28, 1929.

After serving as assistant pastor of St. Patrick's church, Glen Cove, Long Island, in 1930-31, Bishop-Elect Carberry made studies in canon law at the Catholic University of America, here, from 1931 to 1934; served as an assistant at St. Patrick's church, Huntington, Long Island, in 1934-35, and taught in the seminary of the Immaculate Conception, Huntington, Long Island, from January to June, 1935.

On loan to the diocese of Trenton, New Jersey, from 1935 to 1940, Bishop-elect Carberry served as secretary to Bishop Moses E. Killey and assistant chancellor of the diocese of Trenton.

Returning to the diocese of Brooklyn, he was assigned to St. Dominic's church, Oyster Bay, in 1940-41; taught in the seminary from 1941 to 1945, and has been an official in the diocesan curia since January 1, 1945.
